Interim Protection for Mask Works of Japanese Nationals Domiciliaries and Sovereign Authorities

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce

Action: Notice of Initiation of Proceeding

Summary : The Secretary of Commerce has delegated the authority under Section 914 of 17 U.S.C. to make findings and issue orders for interim protection of mask works to the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by Amendment 1 to Department Organization Order 10-14. Guidelines for the submission of petitions for the issuance of interim orders were published on Nov. 7, 1984 in the Federal Register, 49 FR 44517-9 and on Nov. 13, 1984 in the Official Gazette, 1048 O.G. 30.

On Oct. 22, 1984, prior to the Nov. 8, 1984, effective date of P.L. 98-620 which added Chapter 9 to 17 U.S.C., the Electronic Industries Association of Japan (EIAJ) through its attorneys submitted a request for the issuance of an interim order. That original request has since been supplemented by additional information from the Government of Japan sufficient to bring it into compliance with the aforementioned guidelines. Consequently, in accordance with paragraph F of the guidelines, this notice announces the initiation of a proceeding with respect to Japan for consideration of the issuance of an interim order.

In the interests of time and because of the rapidly approaching July 1, 1985 registration cut-off date for chips first commercially exploited on or after July 1, 1983, a date is being set both for the submission of comments in accordance with paragraph F(a), and a hearing date with respect to paragraph F(b) of the guidelines.

Dates: Comments must be submitted on or before Apr. 22, 1985 and a public hearing will be held May 6, 1985 at 9:30 a.m.; requested to present oral testimony should be received on or before Apr. 22, 1985.

Address: Address written comments to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Attention Assistant Commissioner for External Affairs, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

The hearing will be held in the Commissioner's Conference Room, 11th Fl., Crystal Plz. Bldg. 3, Rm. 11-C-10, 2021 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va. Written comments and a transcript of the public hearing will be available for public inspection in Rm. 11C28 Crystal Plz. 3, 2021 Jefferson Davis Hyw., Arlington, Va.

For Further Information Contact: Michael K. Kirk, Assistant Commissioner for External Affairs, by telephone at (703) 557-3065 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: Chapter 9 of 17 U.S.C. establishes an entirely new form of intellectual property protection for mask works that are fixed in semiconductor chip products. Mask works are defined in 17 U.S.C. 901(a)(2) as:

"a series of related images, however, fixed or encoded
(A) having or representing the predetermined, three-dimensional pattern of metallic, insulating or semiconductor material present or removed from the layers of a semiconductor chip product; and
(B) in which series the relation of the images to one another is that each image has the pattern of the surface of one form of the semiconductor chip product."

Chapter 9 further provides for a 10 year term of protection for original mask works measured from their date of registration in the U.S. Copyright Office, or their first commercial exploitation anywhere in the world. Mask works must be registered within 2 years of their first commercial exploitation to maintain this protection. Section 913(d)(1) provides that mask works first commercially exploited on or after July 1, 1983 are eligible for protection provided that they are registered in the U.S. Copyright Office before July 1, 1985.

Foreign mask works are eligible for protection under this Chapter under basic criteria set out in section 902; first, that the owner of the mask works is a national, domiciliary, or sovereign authority of a foreign nation that is a party to a treaty providing for the protection of the mask works to which the United States is also a party, or a stateless person wherever domiciled; second that the mask work is first commercially exploited in the United States; or that the mask work comes within the scope of a Presidential proclamation. Section 902(a)(2) provides that the President may issue such a proclamation upon a finding that:

"a foreign nation extends to mask works of owners who are nationals or domiciliaries of the United States protection (A) on substantially the same basis as that on which the foreign nation extends protection to mask works of its own nationals and domiciliaries and mask works first commercially exploited in that nation, or (B) on substantially the same basis as provided under this chapter, the President may by proclamation extend protection under this chapter to mask works (i) of owners who are, on the date on which the mask works are registered under section 908, or the date on which the mask works are first commercially exploited anywhere in the world, whichever occurs first, nationals, domiciliaries, or sovereign authorities of that nation, or (ii) which are first commercially exploited in that nation."

Although this chapter generally does not provide protection to foreign owners of mask works unless the works are first commercially exploited in the United States, it is contemplated that foreign nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities may obtain full protection if their nation enters into an appropriate treaty or enacts mask works protection legislation. In order to encourage steps toward a regime of international comity in mask works protection, Section 914(a) provides that the Secretary of Commerce may extend the privilege of obtaining interim protection under chapter 9 to nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities of foreign nations if the Secretary finds:

(1) that the foreign nation is making good faith efforts and reasonable progress toward—
(A) entering into a treaty described in section 902(a)(1)(A), or
(B) enacting legislation that would be in compliance with subparagraph (A) or (B) of section 902(a)(2); and
(2) that the nationals, domiciliaries, and sovereign authorities of the foreign nation, and persons controlled by them, are not engaged in the misappropriation, or unauthorized distribution or commercial exploitation of mask works; and
(3) that issuing the order would promote the purposes of this chapter and international comity with respect to the protection of mask works."

On Oct. 22, 1984, prior to the Nov. 8, 1984 effective date of P.L. 98-620 which added Chapter 9 to 17

U.S.C., the Electronic Industries Association of Japan (EIAJ), through its attorneys, submitted a request for the issuance of an interim order to Secretary Baldrige. The Secretary informed EIAJ's attorneys that the request had been referred to the Patent and Trademark Office, and that the Commissioner would advise them if additional information were required. On Nov. 15, 1984, Commissioner Mossinghoff met with Japanese officials to discuss a letter from Mr. Yuji Tanahashi of the Japanese Ministry of International Trade Industry, and what additional information might be required to complete the EIAJ submission. The results of this meeting were confirmed on Nov. 30, 1984, in a letter to Mr. Tanahashi. No response was received from Mr. Tanahashi. On Jan. 22, 1985, Acting Commissioner Quigg wrote Mr. Taizo Yokayama pointing out what additional information would be required. On Mar. 4, 1985, Mr. Tanahashi wrote to Mr. Quigg to supplement the original request with sufficient information to permit the commencement of proceedings under the guidelines. The original petition and the supplemental information are reproduced below.

In his remarks in the Congressional Record of Oct. 10, 1984 at page E4434 Representative Kastenmeier suggests that "[i]n making determinations of good faith efforts and progress . . ., the Secretary should take into account the attitudes and efforts of the foreign nation's private sector, as well as its government. If the private sector encourages and supports action toward chip protection, that progress is much more likely to continue . . . With respect to the participation of foreign nationals and those controlled by them in chip piracy, the Secretary should consider whether any chip designs, not simply those provided full protection under the Act, are subjected to misappropriation. The degree to which a foreign concern that distributes products containing misappropriated chips knows or should have known that it is selling infringing chips is a relevant factor in making a finding under section 914(a)(2). Finally, under section 914(a)(3), the Secretary should bear in mind the role that issuance of the order itself may have in promoting the purposes of this chapter and international comity."

In view of these admonitions, comments are invited on this petition and the supplemental information. Particularly, views are solicited as to the relation of the proposed Japanese legislation and Chapter 9 of 17 U.S.C.; and to the existence or non-existence of any misappropriation of mask works in Japan.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Re: Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Enclosed please find a petition that I have executed today, on behalf of the Electronic Industries Association of Japan. I hope it will meet with your favorable consideration.

Sincerely yours,
Akio Morita
President
Electronic Industries
Association of Japan
Chairman and Chief
Executive Officer
Sony Corp.

Petition of Akio Morita on Behalf of the Electronic Industries Association of Japan Under Section 914(a) of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984

WHEREAS Section 914(a) of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984 provides that the Secretary of Commerce may issue an order with respect to protection afforded nationals, domiciliaries, and sovereign authorities of any nation of any person, and

WHEREAS the Electronic Industries Association of Japan ("EIAJ") is a business association which includes the major semiconductor manufacturers based in Japan, and the undersigned serves as its President,

The Undersigned, on behalf of the EIAJ, does now petition the Secretary to issue an order respecting Japan, effective as of the date of enactment of the Act and for such time period as the Secretary may decide is reasonable under the circumstances. It is further petitioned that said order be issued expeditiously in the case of Japan, in conformance with the statutory criteria and legislative history pertaining to the Act.

In support of the expeditious issuance of an order with respect to Japan, effective as of the date of enactment, reference is made to the following facts:

1. The private semiconductor industry in Japan, as represented by EIAJ, during the pendency of the Act advised the U.S. Congress by official letter (Appendix I hereto) of its support for the Act and its support for expeditious legislation in Japan.
2. The Government of Japan, through the joint recommendations of the United States-Japan Work Group on High Technology Industries, has agreed to a bilateral declaration in support of such legislation. in this regard, the Industrial Structure Council, an advisory committee to the Minister of International Trade and Industry, has organized a formal study group, the Subcommittee on Legislative Problems Concerning Semiconductor Chips, to draft appropriate legislation. The first meeting of the Subcommittee has been scheduled for Oct. 24, 1984.
3. Japan has a substantial semiconductor industry. In light of the above considerations with respect to progress toward legislation in Japan, expedited issuance of an order is appropriate to encourage and facilitate efforts to establish international comity.
4. Insofar as can be determined, Japan's commercial entities are not engaging in, and have not in the recent past engaged in, the activities described in Section 914(a)(2) of the Act.

WHEREFORE, on behalf of the EIAJ I do petition that an order, as described, issue expeditiously with respect to Japan.

Respectfully submitted,
Akio Morita
President
Electronic Industries
Association of Japan
Chairman and Chief
Executive Officer
Sony Corp.

Thank you for any consideration you can give to the approach we suggest. As always, my personal best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Chairman
Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice
Judiciary Committee
U.S. House of Representatives

U.S.A.

Dear Rep. Kastenmeier:

The Electronic Industries Association of Japan (EIAJ) has been following the progress, through the Congress, of legislation that would afford a new form of protection for semiconductor chip products. In our view, the passage of such legislation is highly desirable, both of itself and as an indication of the proper direction for the international protection of such intellectual property. In this latter respect, we note the joint recommendations of the U.S.-Japan Work Group on High Technology Industries, made in Nov. 1983. One such recommendation of this government-to-government group was:

III. Technology

3. Both governments should recognize that some form of protection to semiconductor producers for their intellectual property is desirable to provide the necessary incentives for them to develop new semiconductor products. And both governments should take their own appropriate steps to discourage the unfair copying of semiconductor products and the manufacturing and distribution of the unfairly copied semiconductor products.

Since the U.S. legislation will be the first of its kind in the world, we hope that it will meet the challenge posed by the development of a new class of intellectual property by affording it a commensurately new form of protection. We expect that this approach by the U.S. will serve as a model for other countries. In this respect we feel it would be very beneficial for such legislation to maintain an incentive for foreign nations to "catch up", without departing from the principle of full national treatment. This could be accomplished by a reasonable interim period for full-term registration, not limited by considerations of nationality, domicile, or place of first commercial exploitation. This suggestion was spelled out in a July 9 letter from our Washington counsel (which is attached). We have also suggested, through counsel, some important technical clarifications of interpretation. I would be gateful if you could consider our suggestions in any conference proceedings.

In this connection, we have been asked whether EIAJ has a view as to probable or appropriate legislative action in Japan. Speaking on behalf of the semiconductor manufacturers of Japan, EIAJ recognizes the need for, and importance of, protection in Japan for the intellectual property embodied in semiconductor chips. Accordingly, we will ask the Government of Japan to provide such protection, as expeditiously as possible, through a new legislative framework.

Dear Sen. Mathias:

I was sorry to have missed the opportunity to see you during my recent trip to Washington. I do hope, however, that we will have another chance before too long. In the meantime, I did want to call to your attention something that is of great interest in my capacity as President of the Electronic Industries Association of Japan (EIAJ).

EIAJ has been following the progress, through the Congress, of legislation that would afford a new form of protection for semiconductor chip products. In our view, the passage of such legislation is highly desirable, both of itself and as an indication of the proper direction for the international protection of such intellectual property. In this latter respect, we note the joint recommendations of the U.S.-Japan Work Group on High Technology Industries, made in November, 1983. In this respect we feel it would be very beneficial for such legislation to maintain an incentive for foreign nations to "catch up", without departing from the principle of full national treatment. This could be accomplished by a reasonable interim period for full-term registration, not limited by considerations of nationality, domicile, or place of first commercial exploitation. This suggestion was spelled out in a July 9 letter from our Washington counsel (which is attached). We have also suggested, through counsel, some important technical clarifications of interpretation. I would be grateful if you could consider our suggestions in any conference proceedings.

In this connection, we have been asked whether EIAJ has a view as to probable or appropriate legislative action in Japan. Speaking on behalf of the semiconductor manufacturers of Japan, EIAJ recognizes the need for, and importance of, protection in Japan for the intellectual property embodied in semiconductor chips. Accordingly, we will ask the Government of Japan to provide such protection, as expeditiously as possible, through a new legislative framework.

Thank you for any consideration you can give to the approach we suggest. As always, my personal best wishes,

Sincerely yours,
Akio Morita

and Trademarks

Dear Mr. Quigg:

I would like to relate the following to you in connection with the efforts we have made and the progress we have achieved in legislative initiatives for the protection of semiconductor chips in Japan since I wrote to Mr. Mossinghoff on Nov. 13, 1984.

On Jan. 22, 1985, the Subcommittee on the Legal Problems Concerning Semiconductor Chips under the Industrial Structure Council, after seven sessions since Oct., 1984 reached a conclusion that, in sum, a new law similar to the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of the United States is necessary for optimal protection of the layout of semiconductor chips in Japan, and recommended that the Ministry of International Trade and Industry ("MITI") start preparation for enactment of such a law as soon as possible. I believe you have received an English text of the report of the Subcommittee, since we turned it in to the United States Embassy in Japan.

Mr. Akio Morita, President of the Electronics Industry Association of Japan ("EIAJ"), also requested that the Minister of International Trade and Industry promptly enact a new law similar to that of the United States.

Under these circumstances, MITI, as a governmental agency in charge of developing legislation for the protection of mask works, is making an energetic effort to submit a legislative bill to the present session of the Diet. We are drafting the bill with due consideration for the views expressed on the outline of the bill by the semiconductor industry, including foreign affiliates. Although there is no fundamental objection to this effort among governmental agencies, the decision of the Japanese government as a whole to submit the bill will be made most probably in the middle of March since adjustments are necessary within the government pursuant to the ordinary legislative procedure.

Meanwhile, MITI has good grounds for believing that neither Japan nor Japanese nationals or domiciliaries are engaged in the misappropriation, or unauthorized distribution or commercial exploitation of mask works. As you are aware, MITI has taken action to make people and industries concerned throughly understand the view expressed in the recommendation of the Japan-U.S. High Tech Work Group—"Both governments should take their own appropriate steps to discourage the unfair copying of semiconductor products and the manufacturing and distribution of unfairly copied semiconductor products.", and I believe the Japanese semiconductor industry has been responding sincerely to this action.

A petition under Section 914 of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984 (17 U.S.C.) was filed with the Secretary of Commerce by Mr. Akio Morita of EIAJ. Considering the circumstances mentioned above, I believe conditions for issuance of an order under 17 U.S.C. Section 914(a)(1)(B) are fully satisfied.

Yours sincerely,
Yuji Tanahashi

Semiconductor Integrated Circuit Protection Bill of Japan (Summary)

Feb., 1985

1. Definitions

(1) A "semiconductor integrated circuit product" means any product having transistors and other elements which are inseparably formed on the surface of a semiconductor or insulating material, or inside the semiconductor material, and intended to perform circuitry functions.

(2) A "circuit layout" means a three-dimensional layout of elements and wires in a semiconductor integrated circuit product.

(3) "Utilize" means manufacture, transfer, lease, exhibition or import of semiconductor integrated circuit products embodying a circuit layout.

2. The following rights can be claimed:

(1) The holder of a circuit layout right shall have an exclusive right to utilize, for business purposes, the circuit layout.

(2) The holder of a circuit layout right or an exclusive licensee may seek an injunction against a person who infringes or likely to infringe on the circuit layout right or exclusive license.

(3) The manufacture, transfer, etc., for business purposes, of articles, such as masks, to be used exclusively for the manufacture of the infringing semiconductor integrated circuit products shall be deemed to be an infringement of the circuit layout right.

(4) The infringing party shall be liable for damages for infringement and shall be subject to criminal punishment.

3. Registration system

(1) A person who has originally developed the circuit layout, or his successor, may apply for registration for the establishment of a circuit layout right within two years of the date on which he first transferred, leased or exhibited the concerned semiconductor integrated circuit products for business purposes.

(2) The circuit layout right shall come into force upon registration for its establishment. (The registration system shall be a simple one.)

4. Term of protection

The term of protection shall be ten years from the date on which the right was created.

5. Limitation of exclusive rights

(1) The experimental manufacturing for the purpose of analyzing or evaluating the circuit layout, electronic circuitry or logic circuitry of a semiconductor integrated circuit product embodying a circuit layout right shall not constitute an infringement.

(2) Utilizing an originally developed circuit layout based upon electronic circuitry or logic circuitry analyzed and evaluated as described in paragraph (1) shall not constitute an infringement.

(3) When the holder of a right to a semiconductor integrated circuit product transfers it to another, the transferee thereof may transfer, lease, exhibit or import the product without the authority of the holder of the right ("first sale doctrine").

(4) A bona fide purchaser, without (gross) negligence, of an infringing semiconductor integrated circuit product who has transferred it to another after learning of the infringement shall be held responsible for the payment of a fair price to the legitimate holder of the right but shall not be subject to injunction or damages.

6. Protection of a circuit layout developed by a foreigner Under consideration.

(The law shall extend protection without discrimination to a circuit layout developed by a national or a domiciliary of a foreign country at least if a circuit layout developed by a Japanese national or a domiciliary of Japan is protected by that country.)

7. Other provisions

Other provisions to be established include provisions concerning exclusive and non-exclusive licenses and a provision to the effect that if an employee of a company develops a circuit layout, the right concerning the layout shall, unless otherwise agreed, belong to the company.

Mr. Gerald J. Mossinghoff
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks Office
Department of Commerce

Dear Mr. Mossinghoff:

As co-chairman of the Japan-U.S. High Tech Work Group I would like to relate the following to you in connection with the materialization of your country's Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984.

At the Sept. 14th meeting of the High Tech Work Group it was requested of me that, in consideration of the enactment of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act in the United States, Japan enact legislation to the same effect. I myself have agreed with the High Tech Work Group's recommendation made in Nov. 1983 as to the need for Japanese legislation to protect developers of semiconductor chips, and I am now pleased to let you know that serious consideration of this issue has begun with the abovementioned request taken into account.

A subcommittee on legislative issues concerning semiconductor chips has been set up within the Industrial Structure Council and was convened for the first time on Oct. 24th. I would like to add that participating in the subcommittee are Japanese representatives of Intel Japan K.K. (a U.S. affiliate) and Texas Instruments Japan Ltd. (a U.S. affiliate). Because the authority to enact laws rests with Japan's legislative body, the Diet, and because of differences between our legal system and that of the United States, I am not able to state anything definitive as yet. But I do want to consolidate the views of those of us within the Government and lay a bill before the Diet at the earliest possible date.

In addition to more effectively protecting rights relating to semiconductor chips in line with the High Tech Work Group's recommendation, on a fundamental level we are interested in making efforts towards drafting a proposed law similar to that enacted by your country.

Finally, I am sure we agree that close cooperation between our two Governments is essential to the sound growth of the semiconductor chip industry and also of trade in this item. Let us, then, cooperate closely in the future application of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act and in the enactment of a new law in Japan.

Yours sincerely,
Yuji Tanahashi
Chairman of the Japan-U.S.
Work Group on High
Technology Industries
Deputy Director-General,

International Trade and

P.S. In connection with the above, I would like to add that I have been informed that Mr. Morita, representing the views of the Japanese semiconductor industry, has presented a petition to the Secretary of Commerce in accordance with Article 914 of the U.S. Semiconductor Chip Protection Act.

Dear Mr. Tanahashi:

Thank you for your earlier inquiry concerning the extension of interim protection to Japanese mask works under Section 914 of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984. On Nov. 15, 1984, I met with Mr. Taizo Yokoyama and Mr. Nobuo Tanaka of the Japanese Embassy here in Washington to discuss a number of matters related to chip protection. I would like to assure you, as I assured them, that any Japanese request for the issuance of an order extending interim protection will be given serious and prompt consideration. However, there are certain factors that must be considered in arriving at a determination to issue or not to issue such an order.

Although requests for the issuance of an order may be submitted by any party, Section 914 requires that the Secretary of Commerce make certain findings with respect to the activities of foreign governments and sovereign authorities as well as organizations controlled by them. Section 914(a)(1) requires that the Secretary must find that the foreign nation is making good faith efforts and reasonable progress toward entering into a treaty or enacting appropriate legislation. This finding must be made with respect to the government involved. As I informed Mr. Yokoyama and Mr. Tanaka, we will require a statement attesting to good faith efforts and reasonable progress from an agency which can speak for your Government, especially in view of the potential dispute between your Ministry and the Ministry of Education over jurisdiction for the preparation of semiconductor chip legislation. In view of the differences in our legislative processes, such a statement should include as much information as is available on the nature of the protection under consideration and the processes to be followed in its implementation into law.

I agree that close cooperation between our two nations, which are leaders in the development of this new technology, is important. I hope that we can work together in a way that will promote international comity in mask work protection.

Sincerely,
Gerald J. Mossinghoff
Commissioner of Patents
and Trademarks

Jan. 22, 1985

Mr. Tazio Yokoyama
Embassy of Japan
2520 Massachusetts Ave., N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20008

Dear Mr. Yokoyama:

I am writing to follow up on an earlier conversation that you had with Commissioner Gerald J. Mossinghoff on Nov. 15, 1984, concerning the protection of Japanese mask works. As you may recall, Mr. Mossinghoff assured you that any Japanese request for the issuance of an interim order under section 914 of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984 would receive prompt and serious consideration.

At that meeting, Mr. Mossinghoff advised you that before we could consider further Japan's request we would require additional information regarding the efforts and progress toward enacting chip legislation in Japan, and that this information should be provided by an agency that could speak for the Japanese Government. You also informed Mr. Mossinghoff that he would receive a letter from MITI Deputy Director General Tanahashi attesting to MITI's efforts. On Nov. 30, 1984, we responded to Mr. Tanahashi's letter and advised him of our need for further information in view of the potential jurisdictional dispute between MITI and the Ministry of Education. To date, we have not received the information that we requested.

In view of the July 1, 1985 deadline for registration of chips first commercially exploited after July 1, 1983, time is of the essence. We are anxious to obtain the needed assurances from the Government of Japan that you are progressing on legislation that would protect the mask works of U.S. nationals in a fashion similar to the protection provided under the new U.S. law.

I hope that we will soon receive the statements that will permit us to initiate proceedings with respect to Japan's eligibility for protection under the U.S. legislation.

Sincerely,
Donald J. Quigg
Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries, receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections are open to public use and each of the Patent Depository Libraries, in addition, offers the publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System (e.g. The Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, etc.) and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. With one exception, as noted in the table following, the collections are organized in patent number sequence.

Facilities for making paper copies from either microfilm in reader-printers or from the bound volumes in paper-to-paper copies are generally provided for a fee.

Owing to variations in the scope of patent collections among the Patent Depository Libraries and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours, so as to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
